Annual Vendor Expos

PORA's two biggest events are the Fall and Spring Expos and are very popular in the community. The events often draw thousands of attendees who are free to meet with professionals from many different industries, enjoy food trucks and entertainment and take home information about quality local businesses.

The events are advertised during the year over electronic media, newspapers and radio and advertising is available in the full color Expo booklet.

If you are a vendor and not registered with PORA, the Vendor Expo is a great chance to begin to market your business!

What is the PORA Vendor Service Program?

PORA maintains a foundation of over 8,000 members and represent the cities of Sun City West, The Grand and Corte Bella (approximately 40,000 homes)as well as surrounding cities. When you join PORA's Vendor Service Program, your information reaches current residents and prospective home buyers.

PORA maintains a comprehensive database of area business partners that is available to members on an unlimited basis. Business professionals choose to join the vendor program and pay a fee to be included. After a registration process, they are then added to the online database where the public can search needed vendors by category.

There are 400+ vendors in 125 different categories. Members of PORA may call or stop in to receive individualized lists for each category, or visit the PORA website.

How Do I Participate as a Vendor?

The process for becoming a vendor at PORA requires meeting with the Marketing staff, completing the necessary paperwork and providing 3 references.

There are different levels of involvement for vendors which include trade expos, web site listing, event sponsorship opportunities and social media recognition.

Fee Structure and Advertising

The marketing staff will present various pricing options. These options include:

- Business card and brochure display in the PORA building.

- Advertising in printed annual Vendor Expo catalog.

- Business listing on the website (web advertisers have an option to purchase a link to their own website).

- Vendors may also take advantage of PORA's room rentals to organize a CLASS or FREE SEMINAR.

PORA vendors are highly respected in the community and are involved in many facets of PORA's day to day operation and communication. If you are interested in becoming a PORA vendor, please contact us at 623-584-4288 X 432 or email msmith@porascw.org
